On the Road Again 2013 Edition

The labor day time of year saw our club RVers heading out on another great road adventure. This year the group was focusing on a trip to Alberta Canada. The RV caravan included Paul and Jan Hieb, Allen and Lorene Brinson, Loren and Joan Dahl, Les and Joy Faber, Gary and Donna Friend, and Jim and Cheryl Rowland. The major part of the group left Skagit County on August 26 and returned two weeks later on September 8.

The travel itinerary included driving south on I-5 to I 90 east to meet the Rowlands in Spokane. The first night the group camped in the Spokane Elks Club. Loren and Joan Dahl didn't RV but found lodging in local motels. The next day the folks connected with Highway 2 in Idaho and on to Kalispell, Montana. Not far from Kalispell the group made the U.S. Canada border stop and their first museum stop in Cardston, Alberta. This private carriage museum contained over 100 wagons, stages and buggies. All were nicely restored and presented.

The happy band of RVers continued to Nobleford AB where the group camped at a nearby ranch owned by Joy Faber's relatives, Ernie and Rickie Van Dyke. Ernie is a retired rancher who had worked over two sections of land raising sugar beets, wheat and barley. Ernie's wife Rickie is a retired registered nurse who had worked in the local hospital. Paul was impressed with the Van Dyke's prairie hospitality menu which include home made soups, bread and cinnamon rolls.

Ernie took the group on a tour of a local Hutterite colony that had been established about five years ago. The colony was mostly self sufficient by growing most of their own food on a 10,000 acre farm. The colony had a fabrication shop producing grain bins that were sold throughout the world. All the metal and wood work for the homes and buildings were done at the site. The shop's equipment and tools were state of the art and all work done was of high quality. Most of the shop work was done during the off agriculture season when time was available. The member's clothes were created by the women in specially designed clothing manufacturing facilities. A large flock of geese was maintained to provide goose down for bedding materials. Families lived in small modest houses that did not include kitchens. All members ate in a community dining area that had men dining in one area, the women in another and the children in a separate room. The boys wore black pants with suspenders, gray long sleeve shirts and black caps. The girls wore long dresses and caps. No cars are used but vans are used to transport members to town when needed. Children speak only a dialect of German until they start school at the colony. This group included around 30 children. A teacher is contracted from town to teach the children on site where English is the primary language at the school. The young are allowed to visit other colonies and when 18 years old they are permitted to start "hunting" which is their word for dating.

President's Message

Summer has come and gone way too fast again with all our summer activities. Parades went well with good weather, a first place at Sedro Woolley with 20 tractors and $25.00 for the club. On July 20th was our tractor caravan hosted by Audrey and Marlen Knutson. We sure want to thank them. We had a great time and food for our 20th anniversary. The next week six of us went to Brooks, Oregon for the dedication of the Oregon Two Cylinder Club's new building and also their 25th anniversary. Very good show and banquet. Coming up October 19 is our meeting at Sedro Woolley Museum at 10:00 am. See you at the meeting.
 Paul Hieb, President

This colony was five years old with 90 members and growing. Usually when the colonies reach 200 members another colony is created with support from the other Hutterite groups. The colony maintains around 10,000 acres for agriculture purposes with modern agriculture equipment. Hogs were also raised and processed on the site. A strong work ethic is instilled in the youth with the young boys weeding the gardens and the older girls milking the colonies 70 milk cows. Grain is grown on the ranch and processed in their own grain mills. Trading of agriculture products with the other colonies is permitted. Outside contract work for the metal fabrication shop and wood shop was encouraged to bring money into the colony.

After a couple of fascinating days visiting the Van Dykes and the Hutterite colony the RV group traveled to Wintaskwin, Alberta. The group stayed in a private camp ground for four days and toured a provincial museum and tractor show. This was a threshing show with 1940s and older tractors and included a huge antique steam shovel. Nearby was a locomotive museum with an active train that was a tourist draw.

Next on the itinerary was the drive to the Edmonton Mall which still claims to be the largest in the world. After a lot of shopping by the women the RV caravan left Edmonton and headed south to Bently Alberta. This agriculture area was covered with wheat, barley, canola and fava beans. The next stop was Calgary and then on to Lake Louise for two days. By now the caravan was down to three couples with the others departing to other destinations before returning home. After a tour of Banff Provincial Park, the remaining Rvers headed toward the U.S. border and returned to the great Skagit County on Sunday, September 8th. Another fun and educational trip was in the bag!

Separating the Chaff from the Grain

Fall is here and it is time to prepare your treasured tractor(s) for the idle, cold winter months ahead. I hope by now that you have checked the anti freeze in your tractors. The experts say that anti freeze and water should be mixed before adding to an old Deere cooling system unless you are going to run the engine hot. The reason is that with the thermo siphoning system, the anti freeze and water don't mix very quickly like with a water pump cooling system. It is also recommended that the collector tractors be run hot during the winter season to get the oils moving around the engine and transmission and to "dry out" the internal parts. It's also nice to keep that $80 plus 6 volt battery charged and maintained during the idle time of the year. Some say that all gas should be removed from the tank but others argue that the tank should be full to reduce moisture. Either way the carb. should be run dry. Non ethanol gas would be a good idea and maybe an Extend type of product to keep the gas fresh.

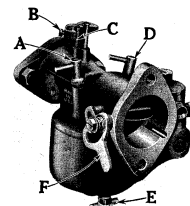

Non Ethanol gasoline is still available at Skagit Farmers Admin. Building 1833 Park Lane - Burlington, WA. You will need a Skagit Farmers card to get the fuel 24 hours a day. If you know of other non ethanol sources please let us know so we can pass on the information! I saw $2.95 gas in Albuquerque New Mexico on October 5, 2013! Wow! Wow!Wow! I was recently on a road trip thru Washington, Idaho, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico. New Mexico was the least expensive gasoline and Washington the next. The most expensive was in Idaho!

The Puget Sound Antique Tractor and Machinery Association Show will be featuring John Deere in 2017. This date is a charge to fit the 100 year anniversary of North Washington Implement (Washington Tractor-Lynden). That is just four years away!

We are working on our list of restoration services available in the area and should have our first edition available at the Holiday Potluck dinner on December 14. We need your help on this!

Our secretary, Ray Riggles scored a very nice John Deere 320 on March Point while the others were have fun at the Bayview Caravan this summer. We hope to see Ray proudly driving the highly valued Deere at the parades and caravan next year! Way to go Ray, You're the Man!

Board of Director's Meeting

September 18, 2013

Gary Friend home
Mount Vernon, WA

Board of Director's meeting held Sept. 18, 2013 at Gary Friend's home. Meeting called to order at 7:10 pm by Paul Hieb pres.

Minutes of previous meetings read and approved.

Treasurers Report: Treasurer absent, approximately $5000 on hand.

Old Business: Plow day went very good with 16 tractors. Thulen Farms sent a nice $700 donation to the club. Oregon Two Cylinder Club show and building dedication. They had a nice show and banquet, Paul won the slow race. There were about 10 different organizations that came together to put this show on. We had 7 tractors from your club. They thanked us for coming and our donation to their building fund. Puget Sound Antique Tractor and Machinery Show at Lynden. This year's featured tractor was Allis Chalmers. They had a record number of entries. 2017 is the next year to feature John Deere so be thinking about it! We had a very good technical session on batteries. Sorry I missed it and the man's name but he said he may come again next year. Belleville Threshing Bee: We threshed 4 wagon loads of 2 row barley before a nice lunch put on by Oscar and Nels Lagerlund. After lunch Nels took the steamer out to try it out on a 4 bottom plow. It was neat to see the steamer plowing, although the plow plugged up quite a bit. Anacortes show: A few of our guys attended and went through the parade. Caravan: It turned out to be a nice day, 22 tractors showed up, including the debut of Jim Sorensen's 220. What a cute little machine, Jim really did a nice job on it! Those who showed up toured the Samish flats and enjoyed a great pot luck dinner hosted by Marlen and Audrey Knutson, a good time was had by all.

New Business PSAT&MA board of directors asked our club to store their JD binder in our building. After a lengthy discussion a motion was made to store the binder in our building. The motion passed with 2 no votes. If any problems occur with this, we can revisit the issue at that time.

Next Meeting ; October 19, 2013 at the Sedro-Woolley Museum 10:00 am. Pot Luck December 14, 2013 same time, same place, same menu, mark your calendar!

Meeting adjourned 9:21 PM
