It's that time of year when we need to be hauling our prized green and yellow tractor to all those tractor events.

We were fortunate to have Aaron Gustafson from the Washington State Patrol at our Spring meeting to clue us in on all the laws and safety requirements pertaining to hauling tractors as collectors. Some of us were relieved that as collectors we don't have as many requirements as the professional trucker guys. Basically that's because our trailer loads aren't as heavy. If you weren't at the Spring meeting the following is a brief review of the trailer requirements.

Tie down chains and weight of tractor

For most of us the weight requirements fall into one category, tractors less than 10,000. Most two cylinder Deere fall under 10,000 unless they have multiple wheel weights such as a John Deere 830. Tractors under 10,000 lbs. require two chains (straps) with two load binders to keep the tractor from moving forward, backward, sideways and upwards. Keep in mind that the chains must be attached so the tractor can not slide sideways on the trailer. Be aware that what you attach the chain or web hook to is not the weakest link.

Chain and strap load capacity

If chain isn't stamped with number then least chain strength is considered. A chain needs to be rated at least half the weight of the load. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link. If you shorten a chain you must add in connector links or hooks that are rated the same as the chain. A Grade 70 (g70) 5/16 inch chain has a 4,700 lbs. capacity. A Grade 70 (g70) 3/8 inch chain has a 6,600 lb. capacity and a 3 inch synthetic webbing strap has a 3000 lb. capacity and a 4" strap 4000 lbs. capacity. So in review, if hauling a John Deere model A which weighs less than 10,000 lbs. You would be safe and legal with one 5/16" G70 chain on the front and a 5/16" G70 chain on the rear with one chain binder on each chain. Both chains should handle 9,400 lbs. Chain needs to be attached securely so tractor can't move ahead or back or from side to side.

Safety Chains

Safety chains connecting trailer to truck need to be crossed to provide a chain "cradle" (X) for the trailer hitch to ride if accidentally disconnected. A trailer with no crossed chains can result in a ticket.

Brakes

Trailer brakes required for trailers 3000 lbs. or more. Brake system could be electric or hydraulic.

Emergency brakes

This would be the break away switch and battery unit on the trailer. The system must be in working order or you may be subject to a $124 fine.

Weigh Stations

Stops at weigh stations are not required for farmers and collectors with GVW less than 16,000 lbs. If your truck is marked as a commercial truck then you better be stopping. The Washington State Patrol indicates that you can stop anytime at the weight station to get a safety check.

Freeway driving

Truck and trailers are to stay out of the left lane if three lanes or more and travel no more than 60 mph. Keep it safe!

Spring is here but not spring weather for plowing. We hope to plow about May 6th if the ground is ready, so stay tuned. We will again be at Gale Thulen's farm, La Conner Whitney and Downey Road. Bring a sack lunch and start at 9:00 am. E mail and phone calls will make it happen. We need lots of plows in the ground. Our shop tours at Janicki Industries will be put off until this fall as now we will go to Jeff Newell's machine shop in Arlington on April 29th at 10:00 am. Address 6922 204th St. N.E, Arlington. Spring Gas Up is May 13th at the Skagit County Fair Grounds in Mt. Vernon so bring out your tractors about 9:00 am. The summer caravan is planned for July 15 in the Coupeville area with the club furnishing sandwiches and drinks. The rest will be potluck. More in the summer newsletter. We are going up for the Lynden Threshing Bee because John Deere is the featured tractor and it's the 100th year of the Lynden John Deere dealership. Would like to see the south end of the show grounds full of John Deere tractors & equipment. With all activities this spring we will not have our regular spring meeting. Have any questions give me a call. See you at the shop tour. Paul Hieb, President

Plans for the 100 year celebration are moving along with an event logo designed and hats ordered for the summer events. The PSAT&MA and Cascade 2 Cylinder Club will exhibit as one entry in the Saturday, June 3 Farmers Day parade. At the end of the parade, the John Deeres will stage at the Lynden Museum. An afternoon old style John Deere Day will be featured at the Lynden Washington Tractor dealership (North Washington Implement) with classic John Deere tractors displayed. The emphasis at the PSAT&MA August show will be John Deere tractors and implements sold by the local dealerships in Whatcom and Skagit county. On Wednesday, August 1 Washington Tractor will sponsor a potluck dinner at the show grounds for all retired and current Washington Tractor employees and PSAT&MA and C2CC exhibitors. All Deeres are encouraged to be exhibited regardless of year and dealership.
